Before Customer pays any fees, Customer will have an opportunity to review and accept the fees that will be charged. All fees are in U.S. Dollars and, unless explicitly provided otherwise herein, are non-refundable.

6.1 Price. Supplier reserves the right to determine pricing for the Services. Supplier will make reasonable efforts to keep pricing information published on the website up to date, available at <https://dreamclass.io/pricing>. Supplier encourages Customer to check Supplier's website periodically for current pricing information. Supplier may change the fees for any feature of the Services, including additional fees or charges, if Supplier gives Customer advance notice of changes before they apply. Supplier, at its sole discretion, may make promotional offers with different features and different pricing to any of Supplier's customers. These promotional offers, unless made to Customer, will not apply to Customer's offer or this Agreement. The fees set forth in the applicable Order or ordering interface are exclusive of all federal, state, municipal, or other government excise, sales, use, value added or other taxes now in force or enacted in the future, and Customer shall pay any such tax (excluding taxes on Supplier's net income) that Supplier may be required to collect or pay now or at any time in the future with respect to such fees. Unless otherwise set forth in the Order, Customer shall pay all Supplier's undisputed invoices within 30 days after Customer receives invoice. Payment of the amounts due to Supplier shall be made in accordance with the payment schedule set forth on the Order or other ordering interface.

6.2 Authorization. Customer authorizes Supplier or a third-party payment processor to charge all sums for the Orders Customer enters into, orders that Customer makes, and any level of Services Customer selects as described in this Agreement or published by Supplier, including all applicable taxes, to the payment method specified in Customer's account. If Customer pays any fees with a credit card, a third-party payment processor may seek pre-authorization of Customer's credit card account prior to the Customer's purchase to verify that the credit card is valid and has the necessary funds or credit available to cover the Customer's purchase.

6.3 Subscription Services. The paid Services may include automatically recurring payments for periodic charges ("Subscription"). The price, term, and restrictions of any Subscription will be set forth in an applicable Order. If Customer activates a Subscription, Customer authorizes Supplier to periodically charge, on a going-forward basis and until cancellation of either the recurring payments or Customer's account, all accrued sums on or before the payment due date for the accrued sums. The "Subscription Billing Date" is the date when Customer purchases its first Subscription. Information on the "Subscription Fee," is available on Supplier's <https://dreamclass.io/pricing> page. Customer's account will be charged automatically on the Subscription Billing Date all applicable fees and taxes for the next Subscription period. The Subscription will continue unless and until Customer cancels its Subscription or it is terminated by Supplier. Customer must cancel its Subscription before it renews in order to avoid billing of the next periodic Subscription Fee to its account. Supplier will bill the periodic Subscription Fee to the payment method provided by Customer during registration (or to a different payment method if Customer changes its payment information). Customer may cancel the Subscription via its Portal (under Account and Settings), or by contacting Supplier via email. If Customer terminates the Subscription for convenience within the first thirty (30) days of an annual Subscription, Customer will be eligible to receive a pro-rated refund of pre-paid amounts, excluding a cancellation fee of 10% deducted from such refund. Such refund is not available with respect to any renewal Subscription period. 6.4 Delinquent Accounts. Supplier may suspend or terminate access to the Services, including fee-based portions of the Services, for any account for which any amount is due but unpaid. In addition to the amount due for the Services, a delinquent account will be charged with fees or charges that are incidental to any chargeback or collection of any the unpaid amount, including collection fees.

7. PAYMENTS TO CUSTOMER. If Customer charges its Authorized Users fees, then Customer may receive the fees charged less certain fees and expenses (“Customer Fees”) using Supplier’s third-party service provider (e.g., Stripe). Customer may be required to have an account with that third-party service provider or with another financial institution in order to receive its Customer Fees, and Customer may be charged fees for any related processing services. Any fees charged by Supplier’s third-party service provider or by any other financial institution are between Customer and that provider or institution and may be subject to their terms and conditions or any agreement Customer has with them. Supplier may place limits on the balance of Customer Fees needed in order for Customer to cash out and on the amount of Customer Fees that Customer may cash out in any given day or transaction, and Supplier may update these limits from time to time at its discretion. In no event may Customer Cash Out more than $1,000 per day. “Cash Out” means for Customer to receive or redeem Customer Fees, whether such payment is made using Supplier’s third-party service provider or with another financial institution.

Material modifications are effective upon Customer's acceptance of the modified version of the Agreement. Immaterial modifications are effective upon publication. Except as expressly permitted in this Section 19, this Agreement may be amended only by a written agreement signed by authorized representatives of the parties to this Agreement. Disputes arising under this Agreement will be resolved in accordance with the version of this Agreement that was in effect at the time the dispute arose.

Such events, occurrences or causes do not include inability to meet financial obligations. The time of performance hereunder is extended by a period of time lost because of such delay.
